Nation's First Auto Train Whistles Into Florida

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — A sleek red and purple train whistled into central Florida Tuesday, 15 minutes ahead of schedule marking a new concept in rail travel.

The nation's first Auto Train thundered past workmen still hammering rails and setting switches as it completed its 15-hour, 900-mile maiden run from the Washington, D.C., area.

About 95 passengers from the frigid North, some bundled in furs, piled out of the 15-car train into the warm sunshine. They were greeted by about 150 persons who waited on a dirt embankment in the unfinished terminal area.

Auto Train lets the vacationer ride the rails and take his car along. Vehicles are loaded in piggy back carriers. Passengers ease back in recliner seats as they streak along the Eastern seaboard between terminals in Sanford and Lorton, 15 miles from the Nation's capital.

For a driver, his car and three other passengers, the trip is $190. A bedroom compartment is another $40. Food is in with the deal.

The train carried 28 automobiles and on normal runs will carry 104 cars and as many as 400 passengers, a train official said.

Ruth Pugh of Cleveland, a frequent Florida visitor, has always flown before.

"I'd never take a jet again," she said. "The service, food and champagne on this trip were marvelous and so person-alized."

"This idea will catch on," commented Jules Miller of New York, who was en route to St. Petersburg. "You've got both comfort and your car."

Enemy Keeps Up Pressure Near Cambodian Capital

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Enemy forces kept up pressure near Cambodia's capital with rockets, guns and mines Tuesday. South Vietnamese forays met little resistance in the eastern part of the country.

There was no fresh word from Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, where the Cambodian government troops and thousands of refugees are reported marooned after a Cambodia offensive collapsed last week.

In Saigon Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams met with President Nguyen Van Thieu. The presence of Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, suggested the Cambodians' plight might have been among subjects discussed.

Both the United States and South Vietnam have been providing air support to the beleaguered Cambodians but have been unable to reverse the rout of forces northeast of Phnom Penh or break the siege of towns on the capital's northeastern outskirts.

U.S. ground forces are forbidden to enter Cambodia, and thousands of Saigon ground troops in eastern Cambodia are more than 70 miles away from the chief trouble spots. The South Vietnamese are probing in a north-south corridor between the Chup and Mimot rubber plantations—both reputed sanctuaries for North Vietnamese or Viet Cong divisions.

Fourteen enemy rockets hit the Phnom Penh area Tuesday and one smashed two houses and wounded three civilians in a slum at the western edge. There were no reports on the effect of three rockets that hit near the Phnom Penh airport and 10 fired at a command post 12 miles west of the city.

Allies Stepping Up Spending To Ease U.S. Defense Burden

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Ten North Atlantic allies announced Tuesday night they are stepping up military spending by more than a billion dollars, or nearly six per cent, in 1972 to ease the U.S. burden of defense.

"I think the Americans ought to be very much impressed by what the Europeans have done," the British defense minister, Lord Carrington, told newsmen in the name of the 10-nation Eurogroup. Members are Belgium, Britain, Denmark, West Germany, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Turkey and Luxembourg.

Carrington spoke after presiding over a meeting of the Eurogroup defense ministers. It reviewed the progress of their combined effort to improve the contribution of the Old World to defenses of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The increase for the year 1972, according to Carrington, represents a normal expansion of national defense budgets calculated on the basis of current prices. Some of this could be gobbled up by inflation.

The 10 allies this year have been spending about $18 billion on defense—compared with a total U.S. military budget of around $80 billion.

The Eurogroup coupled their announcement with a long statement listing their air, land and sea contributions to NATO defenses this year and next.

There was a dual purpose in the exercise:

—To show just how they are trying to take some of the load off the United States at a time of travail for the dollar and the American economy generally.

—To help President Nixon resist congressional pressure for a cutback of the 310,000-man American garrison in Europe. The President has pledged to keep American troops here at their present level provided the European allies bestir themselves with a more vigorous defense effort.

Earlier in the day Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird flew in for NATO's annual round of meetings with an assurance that the President will ask

Unmanned Soviet Space Capsule Lands On Mars

MOSCOW (AP) — An unmanned Soviet space capsule parachuted onto Mars and sent television and radio signals to earth, Tass reported Tuesday. It is the first time that a functioning manmade object had soft-landed on the planet's dusty surface.

The capsule was dispatched to Mars last Thursday from the Soviet probe Mars 3, which continued to circle the planet in an orbit more than 930 miles high, the Soviet news agency announced.

The agency gave no details on the shape or weight of the capsule which landed or the next step in its mission.

Tass said, however, that the craft sent radio signals to the Mars 3 mothership, which in turn relayed them to earth Thursday through Sunday. The agency added that the vehicle also sent some "video signals" but they "were brief and suddenly discontinued."

Mars 3 was launched May 28 and took 188 days to reach the red planet, 76 million miles from earth. It followed closely behind Mars 2, launched May 19.

Mars 2 dipped into a wide elliptical orbit of Mars on Nov. 27 and began a photoreconnaissance. The Soviets said it would not attempt a soft landing. It fired a capsule containing a hammer and sickle pennant to the surface.

An American Mars probe, Mariner 9, has been circling the planet since Nov. 13, trying to peer through a dust storm which has raged on the surface since September, thwarting scientists' attempts to map it.

The Soviet space capsule apparently found the Martian surface solid enough to make a stable landing. American scientists had expressed fears earlier that the dust on the surface of Mars was even thicker than that on the moon and that a craft attempting to land might sink out of sight.

Tass indicated that neither Mars 2 nor Mars 3 would be involved in any more space spectacles.

The agency said a computer on board Mars 3 made the final corrections in its trajectory Thursday and put it into position for the separation of the descent craft.

"After separation," the agency continued, "the descent craft entered into the planet's atmosphere, parachuted down and softly landed in the southern hemisphere of Mars between the Electris and Phaetonis regions."

The agency said some of the instruments involved in the Mars 3 probe were made by French specialists under the Soviet-French program of scientific and technical cooperation.

William Pickering, director of the Mariner 9 project, said at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., that he was not surprised at the reported landing of the Mars 3 capsule in view of the two major Soviet probes sent to Mars.

"It will be very interesting to see what kind of data they collect on the surface," he said, "and how they measure the dust storm that is still raging ..."

A RAGING TORRENT

Dutchman's Run, near Stoneham on US6, normally a placid little stream, Tuesday was transformed into this torrent of rushing water by nearly two inches of heavy rain. Melted snow, combined with the rain, added to the stream waters throughout the county and many roads were flooded for various periods of time during the day. The local weatherman reported a total of 1.79 inches of rain up until 4 p.m. Tuesday. See other photos on page 13. (Photo by Mansfield)

House Passes Bill To Launch Major New Day-Care Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House brushed aside threats of a presidential veto Tuesday and passed 210 to 186 a bill that would launch a major new daycare program for preschool children.

The bill, which also extends eral antipoverty programs, now goes to the White House, which worked hard to defeat it.

The new child-development program it authorizes has aroused intensive opposition among conservatives, and President Nixon will be under heavy pressure from them to veto it.

Although no one mentioned the possibility of a veto during the House debate, minority leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told a Republican caucus just before the vote that a veto was certain if the House passed the bill.

Despite the warning, 31 Republicans deserted Ford and the administration and voted with 179 Democrats in favor of the bill. Voting against it were 134 Republicans and 52 Democrats.

Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., stepping down as presiding officer to make a strong plea for passage, said the bill presented

Conferees Okay $1.6 Billion For Fight Against Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed Tuesday on a $1.6-billion bill to mount a concentrated campaign against cancer.

The compromise retains most of the organizational provisions contained in a bill that had passed the House, including retaining the cancer program within the National Institute of Health.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., leaders of the legislative drive, said the compromise retains the best features of the House bill and one which had passed the Senate. They said they expect the compromise will have the approval of President Nixon and the American Cancer Society.

Earlier in the day, President Nixon had sent the conferees word he would accept either version of contested sections of the bill in order "to gain prompt passage of the legislation."

The President, in a letter to Kennedy and eight other senators who requested his views,

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly called on India and Pakistan Tuesday night to order an immediate cease-fire and to withdraw their troops to their own territories.

The action came 24 hours after the Security Council acknowledged its inability to deal with the problem because of Soviet vetoes and handed it to the veto-free assembly.

The assembly vote was 104 to 11 with 10 abstentions.

The cease-fire resolutions carried no binding force, but its sponsors expressed hope the Indian and Pakistani leaders would bow to it as a reflection of world opinion.

India, however, served notice in advance that no resolution would be acceptable unless it recognized the East Pakistan insurgents and won their approval.

The adopted resolution was basically the same as the one killed by a Soviet veto in the Security Council on Monday night.

The assembly debate began Tuesday morning and continued through the afternoon and evening. It was marked, as the Security Council debate had been, by a sharp exchange between Communist China and the Soviet Union.

Peking's deputy foreign minister, Chiao Kuan-hua, noted a statement carried by the Soviet news agency Tass to the effect that the fighting involved Soviet security because of its proximity to the borders of the U.S.S.R.

"This is blackmail and a menace to China as well as all the neighboring countries of India and Pakistan," Chiao said. "Distinguished Soviet representative, what exactly are you planning to do? You might as well tell us here."

He repeated his charge that "the Soviet government is the boss behind the Indian aggression."

Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik accused China of voting against a Soviet resolution in the Security Council "simply because it was Soviet."

"This," Malik said, "was reminiscent of the worst days of the cold war."

He again labeled the Peking representatives as "social traitors."

The speeches in the assembly generally stressed the need for speed in view of the large-scale fighting.

India and the Soviet Union made a half-hearted effort to delay the debate by insisting that the questions should be referred first to the assembly's steering committee. They declined to press the matter, however, when the assembly president, Adam Malik of Indonesia, ruled against them.

India Suffers Severe Blow On Western Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

India suffered a severe blow on its western front Tuesday but claimed it crushed the "hard outer crust" of the foe's defenses in East Pakistan and urged the Pakistani army there to surrender.

Under heavy attack, the Indians admitted they had lost the town of Chhamb in the northern state of Kashmir. If the Pakistani drive there is unchecked, it will cut a vital road to the northern part of that disputed state. Chhamb is 30 miles northwest of the major Indian town of Jammu.

The fighting on the eastern front was severe, and the Indian government spokesman claimed the capture of the garrison town of Jessore, 18 miles from the border and 90 miles southwest of Dacca, East Pakistan's capital.

Army headquarters in Calcutta reported, however, that house-to-house fighting was still going on at nightfall after the Indians drove the 5,000-man garrison from the nearby cantonment and airfield.

A Pakistani army source in Dacca maintained that the Indian advance was being held, that an Indian attack with men, tanks and planes at Hilli in the northwest was repulsed, and that fierce fighting still raged around Jessore.

With correspondents unable to go to the front, there was no way of verifying the conflicting claims.

The Indian chief of staff, Gen. Sam Manekshaw, broadcast an appeal to all 80,000 Pakistani soldiers in East Pakistan to surrender, adding: "Your fate is sealed. Time is running out. Lay down your arms before it is too late."

Manekshaw claimed the Pakistanis were surrounded by Indian forces and the local

Environmental Dept. Approves Landfill Site Application

By BOB CLEVER

The application to the Dept. of Environmental Resources to operate a landfill site off Grunderville rd. was approved Tuesday, but there are even bigger hurdles that the Solid Waste Authority must clear before its operation becomes a reality.

In the first place, the agreement between the municipalities and the authority which would guarantee use of the landfill was not presented at yesterday's meeting.

It had been anticipated that in the two weeks since the last meeting the solicitors would have agreed on the wording.

Secondly, although Forest Service personnel locally favor leasing the some 80 acres of Allegheny National Forest for a landfill, the Environmental Protection Agency will be a determining factor in the final decision. It is quite possible that in interpreting the environmental impact statement that must be prepared the EPA would determine a landfill is not the most desirable or beneficial use of this land. The Forest Service would be bound by the EPA ruling.

Regarding the agreement, the authority was told at its last meeting that before financing can be arranged, financial institutions will require some sort of assurance that the municipalities throughout the county will use the landfill. In other words, they want to know where the money is going to come from to pay for the landfill operation.

It will be expected that each municipality will sign an agreement stating that all solid waste collected in its area would be disposed of at the county operated site.

The delaying factor here could be in the wording of the agreement to satisfy all of the municipalities, particularly with regards to what amount each would be willing to guarantee the authority for handling its garbage, should a private collector default in payment.

Tuesday's special meeting was adjourned with the understanding that additional special meetings would be scheduled to settle the matter of the language of the agreement with the municipalities in the shortest time possible.

A meeting has been scheduled with the Forest Service for Dec. 14 to further discuss the environmental impact statement.

Warren Woman Bails Out As Car Goes Over Hill

A 29-year-old Warren woman escaped injury Tuesday morning by diving out of her car before it rolled over a 40-foot embankment behind the Mr. Donut Shop at 1204 Pennsylvania ave. east.

Mary K. Ransom of 1 Eagan pl. told Warren Borough police that she was driving east on Pennsylvania ave. east around 8:30 a.m. Tuesday when she pulled into the Mr. Donut parking lot.

Once in the lot she attempted to stop her car but the brakes would not respond. The car rolled southeasterly in the lot, jumped over a concrete tire stop and rolled towards the crest of a 40-foot embankment.

Just before the car rolled over the embankment Mrs. Ransom bailed out. The vehicle continued down the hill, through a wooden fence and came to rest against two trees.

Damage to the car was estimated at $250. Damage to the trees and fence came to $50.

Teacher Strikes Leave 15,000 Students Idle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Teachers strikes continued in two western Pennsylvania school districts Tuesday, idling more than 15,000 pupils.

In Armstrong County, teachers in the 12,000-pupil Armstrong School District have closed local schools with their third strike in eight months.

A spokesman for the 550 teachers said the strike was begun Monday because the school board had refused to accept a binding contract arbitration order handed down last week.

The order called for an immediate $400 across the board pay hike, $300 more next year and an additional $300 for teachers with top years of service.

The teachers have been working without a contract for one year. They struck twice earlier this year, but court orders forced them back both times.

Meanwhile, nearly 175 teachers remained on strike in the Peters Township School District in Washington County. The walkout began Dec. 1 in a salary dispute that has idled about 3,200 pupils.

The teachers said they were seeking a $1,500 pay hike over two years. The school board was reportedly offering $1,400 over the same period.

Third Man Arrested By Sheriff

Sheriff D.E. Allen Jr. on Saturday arrested a third man in connection with an incident which occurred during the recent strike at National Forge Co. in Irvine.

Charged with malicious mischief and released on $250 bail is Kerry N. Bowser, 23, of 20 Weiler rd., Warren. Bowser allegedly caused $50 damage to tires on a truck owned by Fitzgerald Trucking Company.

Arrested Monday by the sheriff's department, on a bench warrant for failure to appear in court, was Kenneth Winters Jr. 25 of Grand Valley.

GIs Have Better Chance On Phone Calls To U.S.

Warren area residents are advised that it is still easier for a serviceman in Vietnam to telephone home during the holiday season than it is to complete a call in the other direction.

For that reason, Bell Telephone Company manager, Richard Broxton, recommends that anyone who wants to talk to a serviceman in Vietnam should contact him at once by letter and advise him to call home.

Limited facilities abroad have, for years, made telephone communication difficult. There

Penn Central Co.

Small Stockholders
Want Larger Voice

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A committee of small shareholders in Penn Central Co. stock has been formed to seek a greater voice in the affairs of the financially troubled railroad holding company.

C. Roger Turner, a suburban Philadelphia industrialist who owns 42,000 shares of Penn Central stock, said Monday he was taking the initiative in launching the unit.

Turner said the counsel to the committee would be David Berger, who has been pressing the legal battle against a plan to re-finance $55 million of debts that became due at the end of this month.

Berger was successful in getting a permanent injunction against a shareholders meeting at which a vote was to be taken on the plan. He argued that the plan would dilute the already sharply decreased value of the stock.

is also a problem of locating servicemen on calls in Vietnam. The serviceman, however, is able to place calls on a "first come, first serve" basis at numerous communications centers which have been established to handle mass calling.

Despite continued problems, there has been improvement. In 1965 only 30 calls daily were completed between the two nations. Last year during the holiday season, 1,000 calls were completed daily.

Asked if the inquiry had satisfied McGraw-Hill that the autobiography was legitimate the spokesman replied: "Yes we are satisfied it is legitimate."

The book is due for publication next March 27. Prior to that, also in March, Life magazine will publish three 10,000-word installments. Paperback rights have been sold to Dell Publishing Co. for a 1973 edition.

"Neither the amount paid by McGraw-Hill for the property nor the terms of McGraw-Hill's sale to Life or Dell will be divulged," the company said in a statement.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Turnabout Is Fair Play

A Wattsburg area man is apparently setting a precedent in Erie County Court, and possibly in Pennsylvania.

The man, John F. Norman, RD 2, Wattsburg, is suing his former wife for non-support.

No man has ever sued his wife for support payments in Erie County. Courthouse officials said they know of no similar suits in the state.

Norman apparently has custody of the couple's three children. His former wife, Betty M. Norman, is employed by Lake Shore Lumber Co.

Norman, who is represented by Attorney Bernard Quinn, is reportedly unemployed. When he appeared at the county non-support counseling office Aug. 30 he was wearing a neck brace.

New House Bill Provides For 25 U.S. Districts

HARRISBURG (AP) — Machinery to move congressional reapportionment through the state legislature was introduced Tuesday as private disputes over redistricting became public.

Rep. Harry R. J. Comer D-Philadelphia introduced a stripped down bill providing for 25 U.S. House districts from Pennsylvania.

The specifics—how the districts will be apportioned—were left out and are to be added when there's agreement between Democrats differing. Meanwhile the bill can be moved into position for final passage to cut the number of days it would take to move the measure through the legislature.

Sen. Donald O. Oesterling D-Butler, chairman of the Senate Elections and Reapportionment Committee said he would introduce a similar bill in the Senate. If he does both chambers would be in position to move a redistricting bill quickly.

Two School Districts File Desegregation Appeals

HARRISBURG (AP) — Commonwealth Court took under advisement Tuesday appeals filed by the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school districts against a desegregation order of the state Human Relations Commission.

Counsel for the school districts argued that there is no money to comply and that guidelines of the commission are "arbitrary." The commission ordered the districts in March to submit a plan to desegregate 20 per cent of the schools in each district by Sept. 1, 1971, and the rest by September 1974.

The Philadelphia public school system has some 260,000, 60 per cent of whom are black. Pittsburgh's total enrollment is about 74,000, 40 per cent of them black.

Mrs. Gillian Gilhool, attorney for the Philadelphia district, contended the district didn't have the money to effect an effective plan. She also said that the district would have to seek help from suburban schools to achieve any realistic plan.

President Judge James S. Bowman said it was up to the districts to solve their own problems.

Justin Johnson, representing the Pittsburgh district, said both his district and the Philadelphia district have neither refused to bus students nor to change school boundaries to achieve desegregation — but contend the formula as prescribed by the commission was too arbitrary.

Basically, the commission says it will allow a 30 per cent variance of racial percentages to satisfy desegregation. That means that, depending on the number of blacks and whites in a given school, either black or whites could justifiably represent well over 50 per cent of a student body.

Stanton W. Kratzok, an assistant attorney general representing the commission, said the commission's final order was issued only after the two districts had been allowed a reasonable time in which to come up with a suitable plan.

Kratzok said he realized the hardships the districts may face in coming up with suitable measures for desegregation but said one of the prime purposes was to achieve a "racially mixed learning system."

McGraw Hill Gets Rights To Hughes Autobiography

NEW YORK (AP) — McGraw Hill Book Co. announced Tuesday it has acquired world rights to a 230,000-word autobiography of the elusive multimillionaire Howard Hughes. The book company also rejected a claim the book was not legitimate.

A spokesman for the Hughes Tool Co., which controls the Hughes interests, denied the existence of a Hughes autobiography. "We just can't say anything further, just that it is not true," the spokesman said in Las Vegas after learning of the McGraw-Hill announcement.

A McGraw-Hill spokesman said in response to the Las Vegas statement: "We have taken all prudent and necessary steps to verify the authenticity of the book we are going to publish."

Asked if the inquiry had satisfied McGraw-Hill that the autobiography was legitimate the spokesman replied: "Yes we are satisfied it is legitimate."

The book is due for publication next March 27. Prior to that, also in March, Life magazine will publish three 10,000-word installments. Paperback rights have been sold to Dell Publishing Co. for a 1973 edition.

"Neither the amount paid by McGraw-Hill for the property nor the terms of McGraw-Hill's sale to Life or Dell will be divulged," the company said in a statement.

Working with author Clifford Irving McGraw-Hill said Hughes taped transcripts of the autobiography over a period of several months this year "in various motel rooms and parked cars throughout the Western Hemisphere."

In early February Life plans to publish an account by Irving of the project and his impressions of Hughes. McGraw-Hill's statement said the nation's best-known recluse has not been interviewed or photographed since 1957.

Hughes was quoted as saying in the preface to the autobiography:

"I believe that more lies have been printed and told about me than about any living man—therefore it was my purpose to write a book which would set the record straight and restore the balance."

"Biographies about me have been published before—All of them misleading and childish. I am certain that in the future more lies and rubbish will appear."

"Call this autobiography. Call it my memoirs. Call it what you please. It is the story of my life in my own words."

The 1,000-page manuscript was said to deal with Hughes' life from his childhood in Houston to his present self-imposed exile, reportedly in the Bahamas. Hughes slipped out of his long-time Las Vegas hideout about a year ago in the midst of a purported power struggle within his empire.

Mr. Stans May Be Right

Conservationists, encouraged by the National Wildlife Federation, are charging Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans with being a "Wait a Minute" spokesman for the anti-environmental forces. They point to the fact that Stans, in several of his recent speeches, has advocated a slower and more deliberate approach to the solving of the many problems to be dealt with as the nation moves towards environmental improvement.

There are reasons to think that the charge is unfair. While none of us will deny the need for faster action on the environmental front, the Stans position, it seems, is directed towards protecting the economy from the precipitous demands of those more emotionally motivated than informed on the subject.

What effect some of the more severe regulations presently being proposed would have on the economy, and therefore on the average family's standard of living, was brought to light in testimony given the Pennsylvania Environmental Quality Board by Dr. Howard M. Ellis, an environmental specialist of Gordian Associates, Inc. A particular regulation that would control the use of "high sulphur" coal by state industries would, Dr. Ellis said, cost the average family of four an additional $90 per year. Given a little time, he went on to say, less costly methods to correct the sulphur dioxide emissions due to the burning of bituminous coal could be found and no less than 6,000 soft coal miners could remain employed.

Soft coal production is important to Pennsylvania. And while it is less than the preferred fuel of the environmentalist, it is the preferred fuel of the state's industry. Which would call, it seems, for a most rational approach to any regulations governing its use in the future.

This is the point Maurice Stans is trying to make in his "Wait a Minute" speeches; and an important point it is. For mistakes made at this point in the environmental cleanup could not only be costly to all, but could set the movement to improve the overall ecology back many years.

So rather than find fault with the Stans "Wait a Minute" speeches and his timely counseling, we should be controlling our emotional attitudes and weighing each control proposal with profound judgement.

In short, not only Stans but all of us should be saying, "Wait a Minute!"

WASHINGTON—The federal government, perhaps illegally, has hired a controversial private snooping firm to provide information on citizens who seek government-insured home loans.

The firm, Retail Credit Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, has repeatedly been the subject of congressional scrutiny for its snooping practices. It was indicted not long ago for bribing a New York City policeman and other municipal employees to get information.

The company is licensed in a number of states as a private detective agency. Yet federal law prohibits the government from contracting with detective agencies.

Whether legal or not, the Housing and Urban Development Department's contract with Retail Credit should be enough to raise the eyebrows of many Americans who have been investigated by the firm.

By its own count, the company maintains data on 48 million Americans. Its files are loaded with assorted facts, rumors and hearsay swept together by clerk-investigators who seem more interested in volume than veracity.

For instance, Retail Credit's hard-pressed gumshoes are frequently assigned to as many as 15 cases a day, hardly an incentive for painstaking reporting.

GOSSIP GATHERING
Their favorite technique is the so-called "neighborhood check," a hasty canvassing of the subject's neighbors. The information obtained from talkative neighbors may be accurate, or it may be idle, even malicious, gossip.

The company insists it "makes every possible effort to interview the person being investigated." This is contradicted, however, by its confidential "Inspector Manual," which instructs its sleuths "to investigate in such a manner that the (subject) will not learn of the investigation."

Since this is not always possible, Retail Credit occasionally calls upon the subject. But its firm policy is to give no advance notice of the visit. Result: the housewife usually is caught unawares by one or two strangers who want to inspect her home or interview her.

The company also has been caught up in questionable political schemes.

For example, when the American Homes Products Company was opposing a drug bill before the Senate Finance Committee two years ago, it asked Retail Credit to investigate a committee staff member, Jay Constantine. The company's gumshoes immediately began asking Constantine's neighbors about his personal affairs under the pretext that he was seeking a new job.

POLITICAL DIRT
In another case, Pennsylvania Democrats, in an attempt to dig up dirt on Rep. Herman Schneebeli, R-Pa., during last year's congressional elections, hired Retail Credit to run down a list of his campaign contributors. The investigation showed that money was pouring into Schneebeli's campaign coffers from out-of-state corporate bigwigs, whose axes he ground in Congress.

One of the Schneebeli donors was identified by Retail Credit as the executive vice president of a Wall Street brokerage firm. The contributor turned out, instead, to be an executive of another company. It was his son who ran the brokerage firm.

Despite Retail Credit's involvement in such episodes and despite its haphazard investigative methods, it is now under contract to provide information on applicants for FHA and VA home loans.

The company's confidential reports include information on the marital stability of the prospective home buyers. The purpose is to spot couples who are likely to get divorced and may no longer keep up their house payments.

Retail Credit's total take from the government is unknown, since it is paid on a report-by-report basis. The reports are believed to cost about $5 apiece.

Incidentally, the reports not only are widely circulated, but carry a low security classification. This gives an alarming number of government employees access to unproved, often derogatory information about their fellow citizens.

Footnote: Retail Credit's president, W. Lee Burge, insists his company is not a detective agency although it is licensed as such in a number of states. He also denies that his company uses improper or careless methods.

WALL STREET EXPOSE
A bombshell book about Wall Street has been greeted with a strange silence by Wall Street's book reviewers.

The book, "Wall Street: Security Risk," is written by Securities and Exchange official Hurd Baruch. This is unusual in itself since SEC regulators generally speak out only in legal briefs. Baruch lashes Wall Street for being rigged against the small investors and in favor of the fat cats.

At this writing, however, there have been no reviews in the nation's eminent business journals. Baruch, meanwhile, has been barred by his SEC superiors from boosting his book on radio or TV. Considering what it has to say about the stock exchanges, the wonder is that SEC Chairman William Casey had the courage to let him print it all.

PENNSYLVANIA STORY

Where The Money Goes

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — You wonder where your tax money goes — why there's always an insatiable bureaucratic demand for more money and more taxes — why it never seems to "level off"?

Okay — let's look at a "minuscule" phase of Pennsylvania's annual $3 billion spending spree:

Auditors for Auditor General Robert P. Casey's Department have just completed an exhaustive statewide examination of 41 administrative units of the Department of Public Welfare's Mental Health-Mental Retardation Program (incidentally taking over another job previously done by independent auditors at an estimated cost of $42,000).

Thus, the Auditor General moved into still another area never before probed by his Department and his auditors examined the fiscal records of each of the 41 units for a span covering approximately 30 months and reviewed the accountability of more than $31.7 million.

The 41 units covered all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties and the mental health and mental retardation programs administered by the department.

The Commonwealth, for purposes of the mental health and mental retardation allocations, is broken into six regions.

Region I, with five units, covers Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, and Philadelphia Counties. The allocations in that region jumped from $92,057 in 1967-1968 to $271,289 in 1968-1969 — to $14,599,617 in 1969-1970.

Region II covering 8 units, embraces Berks, Bradford-Tioga-Sullivan, Carbon-Monroe-Pike, Lackawanna-Susquehanna-Wayne, Lehigh, Luzerne-Wyoming, Northampton, and Schuylkill Counties. Allocations in Region II have climbed from $106,579 in 1967-1968 to $220,030 in 1968-1969 — to $3,413,235 in 1969-1970.

Region III, with six units, covers Cumberland-Perry, Dauphin, Franklin-Fulton, Lancaster, Lebanon and York-Adams Counties. In Region III, 1967-1968 allocations amounted to only $62,808, rose to $154,192 in 1968-1969 — and zoomed up wards to $2,347,804 in 1969-1970.

Region IV, with eight units, extends through Blair, Cambria, Centre, Columbia-Montour-Snyder-Union, Huntingdon-Mifflin-Juniata, Lycoming-Clinton, Northumberland, and Somerset-Bedford Counties. Region IV allocations in 1967-1968 were only $49,362 for mental health and mental retardation, leaping to $220,214 in 1968-1969 — and all the way up to $1,811,454 in 1969-1970.

Region V, with seven units, takes in Allegheny, Armstrong-Indiana, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Washington-Greene and Westmoreland Counties. The 1967-1968 allocations in Region V amounted to $185,301, in 1968-1969 they rose to $285,761 — but in 1969-1970 skyrocketed to $7,738,994.

Region VI, also with seven units, covers Cameron-Elk-McKean - Potter, Clarion-Forest-Venango-Warren, Clearfield-Jefferson, Crawford, Erie, Lawrence and Mercer Counties. Allocations in Region VI in 1967-1968 totaled only $67,738, went up to $185,608 in 1968-1969 — then to $1,829,486 in 1969-1970.

Now, whether these programs should be further expended, curtailed or even eliminated is not at issue at the moment — the MH-MR figures were used only for the purpose of illustrating how the spending of tax dollars has expanded, in this one field alone.

Multiply this by the host of other programs with their corresponding "expansions" and it isn't difficult perhaps for Pennsylvania taxpayers to understand just why there never seems to be any "levelling off" in taxpayer contributions.

Interestingly, for the first time in this program's history, the Auditor General's Department, in addition to conducting an examination of the accountability for income and expenditures of state and local funds allocated to mental health and mental retardation, also reviews extensively the accounting procedures in operation in each of the 41 administrative units, together with an evaluation of the effectiveness of the individual systems of internal control.

December Is

A Mixed Up Month

This is the month which cannot make up its mind. It is too cold; unseasonably warm; it is addicted to sleet, which is neither rain nor snow; three weeks of it is autumn, one week is winter; some hills are russet, others are blindingly white.

It is the time of the plumed breath, the shortest day, the longest night of the year. The lawn mower moves to the back of the garage; the snow shovel is placed up front. Skid chains rap out a cha-cha on old trucks; flower beds shiver naked in cold winds.

The living room thermostat cannot make up its mind; this gives the oil burner a nervous breakdown. The forests lose the pungent odor of pine needles and brooks gurgle clear and cold behind thin panes of ice. The gray squirrel retires from work to live off buried treasure; sparrows blink on bare limbs, wondering where everybody went.

The sea is savage; the waves have football shoulders and crash in thunder for one more first down. The storm windows will go up next week for sure. On clear nights, flirtatious stars come closer to wink outrageously.

The drudgery of shopping commences. On a given day, a Child will be born and an old man with whiskers and a ho-ho-ho will die ignominiously. This is the month of the crowded parking lot, the scraped fender, bruised feelings; a time to glut the mail with greeting cards whose sentiments are unread, but whose signatures are carefully observed.

Sun Moves South

December is the end of a long year if you are young, a fleeting one if you are old. It is the time when the sun moves south to the Tropic of Capricorn; or, to be more precise, the earth tilts and the blazing ball tracks Sao Paulo, Brazil, Rockhampton, Australia, and an undistinguished town called Nosy-Varika, Madagascar.

For us, dinner and breakfast are eaten in darkness. Jack Frost crochets a lacy antimacassar in the corners of windows. On farms, the field mice have set up light housekeeping in the barns; seek corn hanks red from rafters; corn shocks fashion tepees for ghostly Indians. Trout fracture the surface of smooth lakes leaping for dragonflies long gone.

Fireplace logs snap and complain at being licked to death by long blue and orange flames. An old lady, withered in her own December, drops a piece of orange skin on a stove lid and the kitchen becomes a garden of perfume. Little feet run hard; so do little noses.

It is the month of the countdown, a time when newspapers tell us how few the days are. The bad girl gets furs from a man; the good girl gets a scarf from a girl friend. Seventy million trees will move indoors as lights are moved outdoors. Turkeys can't buy insurance.

The winds whistle while they work, sweeping up the debris of Autumn. The optimist leaves cookies and hot chocolate for Santa; the pessimist places a wreath on an old grave. Parents wonder what they will give; little ones wonder what they will get.

Youthful energy is at its highest racing downhill on crusty snow; at its lowest trudging to the corner store for a pound of cranberries. Autumn, clad in russet and flame, is shoved offstage by Winter, swathed to the chin in ermine.

Time of the Test

The clear days are clearer; the vault of the sky pales off to a powder blue; the bronze sunset feels the face of clouds with pink fingers. Factories and schools reach a peak of productivity; wisps of smoke emerge from tall chimneys and teachers' ears. For all, it is the time of the test.

The rich aluminum birds migrate to Florida. A raincoat has an icicle hanging from its nose. Even a garbage can sports a cocky beret. A train whistle at night is a lonely cry. The bedroom is warm; the sheets are cold. Feet disengage themselves from the rest of the body.

Millions of people will hate Scrooge once more, and forgive him, too.

Television will tell us where the weather is worse. All over the world men will praise God in a hundred languages and a hundred kinds of churches and temples, each claiming Him for their own.

December is the month of many disguises. I study it coldly, knowing that somewhere far off, the verdant virgin of Spring is tiptoeing toward me.....

Sino-Soviet Wrangling Weakens U.N.

By James Reston

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The old venomous Cold War Rhetoric is back again at the United Nations — this time between ambassadors Yakov Malik of the Soviet Union and Huang Hua of China — but somehow even the vindictive daily slanging matches between the Communist giants seem a little out of date.

The nations have changed since the days when Nikita Khrushchev could pound his shoe on a desk at the General Assembly and send a shudder through the world. The human tragedy of the Indian-Pakistani war is so immense that the spiteful exchanges between the Communist ambassadors embarrassed even their own supporters, and didn't even get much space in the press.

This was not because Malik and Huang have lost the art of diplomatic billingsgate. They were both eloquently provocative.

Malik referred in the Security Council the other night to "the low level to which the traitors to socialism on the Chinese side have fallen." He complained that "the Chinese representative (Huang Hua), with his vicious, pathological slander against the Soviet Union, is aspiring... to the role of an imperialist jester. He is amusing the imperialists with his malicious slander against the Soviet Union."

But the fact is that the "imperialists" — if Malik meant the delegates from the United States Britain France are the rest of the western world — were not "amused" by the verbal brawl in the Security Council. They were saddened by it, for suddenly the ideological conflict between Moscow and Peking threatened to overwhelm the urgent business of stopping the war between India and Pakistan and make a mockery of the U.N.'s peace mission in the process.

There are obviously wide and deep differences between the Communist and the non-Communist nations, but the days are long past since Washington took pleasure in the alarming ideological and territorial differences between the two major Communist nations.

Moscow has a million armed men along the Chinese border, confronting a Chinese force at least that size, and officials in Peking talk openly about the possibility of a Soviet attack on China and point to the underground air raid shelters in the Chinese cities as evidence of their concern. In this situation, nobody at the U.N. is very "amused" to find the Sino-Soviet differences suddenly erupting in the security council and thereby not only interfering with the efforts to end the Indo-Pakistani war, but seriously increasing the tensions between Moscow and Peking.

The Chinese are an interesting study in this debate, and Huang Hua is no jester. They did not expect to be sitting in the Security Council at this session, and have not been here long enough to adopt the normal U.N. techniques of polite pretense. In fact, they seem determined not only to challenge the Soviet Union's expansionist policies in the Indian Ocean, but in the Middle East, the Mediterranean, and in Europe as well, and to demonstrate that they are not deceived by Moscow's diplomatic strategy and not intimidated by Moscow's power.

China's position is clear enough. It knows that the Pakistani government was savage in its repression of the East Pakistani rebels, though it says very little about the hundreds of thousands of casualties and the millions of refugees driven into India by the brutality of the Pakistani army.

But in Peking's view, this was an internal conflict, a rebellion and even a Pakistani civil war, which India helped provoke by arming the rebels, and then used as an excuse to settle old scores and dismember the Pakistani state.

Accordingly Huang Hua accused the Soviet Union not only of backing India's intervention in the Pakistani conflict but of using its veto power in the Security Council to help the progress of the Indian army — and he didn't stop there.

For he went on to point to Moscow's hypocrisy in calling for total withdrawal of Israeli troops in the Middle East controversy while opposing a cease-fire and the withdrawal of the Indian and Pakistani troops — all of which, the Chinese ambassador suggested, was in keeping with Moscow's "social imperialism," its expansion into the Mediterranean and now into the Indian Ocean, and even its "aggression against the people of Czechoslovakia."

Yuang Hua weakened his argument by paying little attention to the savagery of the Pakistani government against its own people, but at least he was consistent with Peking policy; China opposed the Soviet Union's use of military force to install the kind of government it wanted in Prague and it is opposing India's use of force to get the kind of government it wants in East Pakistan.

This is not an argument that can be lightly dismissed, for if foreign armies are to cross international borders to correct the internal tragedies of other states, what about the internal repression in the Soviet Union, or in South Africa and many other places? And is the tragedy of the Pakistani rebellion worse than the larger Indo-Pakistani war?

The United Nations cannot even stop pointless international wars like Vietnam, let alone deal with the internal massacres of sovereign states, no matter how tragic. Its only hope is that it can persuade the member nations to pay a little more attention to its first principle to refrain from the threat or use of military force in the settlement of their disputes. And it cannot even do that if the great powers reject the principle and turn the Security Council into an instrument for propaganda, dissension and division.

No doubt India, backed by the Soviet Union, will have her way and Pakistan will be dismembered, and the U.N. weakened once more, but once there is an East Bengal State, the process of fragmenting the sub-continent will have begun again, and disintegration will have begun again, a greater threat to the future of India than the menace of a divided Pakistan.

Fanatopsis

By Russell Baker

WASHINGTON — Mike was a fan. He cared deeply about the home-town team in any sport that happened to be played by a team in his home town in any given year.

When the home-town team won, Mike's digestion improved and he looked upon other people with fondness and good humor.

When the home-town team lost, Mike became depressed. His work suffered. He became surly toward his wife and kicked the cat.

It was no lark being a fan at that time because of the great mobility which had become characteristic of the sports industry. Players were bought and sold or traded like horses, sometimes singly or in small lots, but increasingly in Mike's time, in large herds.

One day Mike was badly shaken when he went to the baseball park and found that the whole home-town team had just been sold to a shopping mall in Texas. It was almost, but not quite, the worst baseball team in America, and, therefore, in the world.

As a good fan, Mike did not mind that. Ever since the team had acquired Kip Bimbelhoff the year before, in a trade for a lawnmower and an eight-year-old mare, Mike felt that the team was "building."

He had had the same feeling about the team every year since 1937, the last year in which the home-town team had finished higher than fifteenth place. "If we can come up with three twenty-game winners, a first baseman who can hit .240, a good double-play combination around second base and a decent catcher to go with Kip Bimbelhoff," he told his wife, "we could be in contention next year."

Upon hearing that the whole team had been sold into Texas, Mike's fan mettle temporarily failed. "Baseball," he roared through tears of rage, "is a racket run by money-grubbing con men who exploit suckers like me!"

"And what's more," said another enraged fan, "Kip Bimbelhoff was just another bum who couldn't hit the curve ball."

This remark brought Mike back from the brink of sanity. "You can't say that about Kip Bimbelhoff," he objected. "Kip Bimbelhoff really loved this home town."

With his fanhood intact, Mike turned to the home-town football team. It had won only two games since the Truman Administration. This dismal record was blamed on the terrible Herman Plano, coach of the relentlessly victorious Medicine Hat Backbreakers.

Whenever Mike's home-town football team approached a level of competence that threatened to win it a victory, its schedule brought it into demoralizing conflict with the Plano-coached Backbreakers and it was crushed for the rest of the year in spirit and body.

Mike hated Herman Plano. He wrote letters to the authorities urging that Herman Plano be removed from football for foul character and bad sportsmanship.

Then, one year, Mike's home-town football team announced that it had hired coach Herman Plano from the Backbreakers. Mike was ecstatic. He wrote letters to the editor stating that Herman Plano was the greatest football coach since Bernie Bierman and the greatest spiritual force for manly goodness since the founding of the Y.M.C.A.

Under the shrewd Plano eye, Mike told his wife, the wonderful hometown team players he had cheered for so many years — Steve Sapparoonian, B. D. Higglesworthovich, Merton Mims and Bruno ("The Beast") Peruna — would become the terrors of the league.

Being a fan, of course, Mike did not wince when Herman Plano immediately traded Sapparoonian, Higglesworthovich and Mims to the Chicago police force and sold Bruno Peruna to a soap factory.

He even went to the game the next week and booed Sapparoonian when the Chicago police played the hometown team. He called Higglesworthovich a "bum" and told everybody around him that the best thing that had ever happened to the home-town team was getting rid of Merton Mims. At half time he went to the washroom and washed his hands on Bruno Peruna.

The following week Herman Plano imported the eight players Mike had always hated most from the Medicine Hat Backbreakers. They were Marley, Cotts, Wye, Utz, Surd, Uncas, Goering and O'Tolstoy.

"With players like Marley, Cotts, Wye, Utz, Surd, Uncas, Goering and O'Tolstoy on your home-town team," Mike told his wife, "you feel terrific all over just knowing you come from this home town."

The following week Herman Plano traded all of the remaining home-town team for a set of used goal posts and a hundred pounds of sideline paint, and brought in 32 players from 21 other cities, none of which was located closer than 800 miles to Mike's home town.

That week the home-town team won its first game since the Korean War. Mike kissed the cat and took his wife to dinner. "It's great to be part of a city that can produce a winner," he told his wife.

She started to say something sensible to Mike, but stifled the impulse in the nick of time. After all, he hadn't taken her out to dinner since the year the home-town hockey team was sold to Grand Rapids for a truckload of furniture and a beautiful money-saving tax loss.

Who Said UCLA Didn't Have Another Roundball Powerhouse?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA's 100-point-a-game sharpshooters are measuring up to their advance notices in the opening salvos of the college basketball season.

Picked as the pre-season favorite to extend their string of national titles to six, the Bruins opened their campaign by crushing The Citadel 105-49 and smothering Iowa 106-72.

This was enough to convince The Associated Press' panel of sports writers and broadcasters that they hadn't been wrong in their pre-season balloting and so they voted UCLA solidly into the No. 1 spot in the first weekly poll.

Other advance favorites also showed up well, with Marquette gaining the No. 2 spot, followed by North Carolina, Ohio State and Maryland in order.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Long Beach State, Kentucky, Jacksonville, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

The rankings are determined by a poll of experts, with points awarded on the basis of 20 for a first place vote, 18 for second and down to one point for 15th on games through Sunday.

On this formula, UCLA received 24 of the 44 No. 1 votes cast, a majority, and tallied 803 points.

Marquette, winner of its first two games in impressive fashion, received seven first place votes and took second place with 739 points. Marquette was rated fourth in the pre-season poll.

North Carolina swamped Rice 127-69 in its opening game, a performance that gained the Tar Heels nine first-place selections. Ohio State received three after beating Georgia Tech 63-55 and Oregon 68-57.

Maryland, a towering but inexperienced combine, had one first place vote but got good support on most of the ballots after beating Brown and George Washington.

Pressure's Jumping On Nebraska Earlier This Year, Says Devaney

MIAMI (AP) — Nebraska and Alabama are stacked 1-2 for a national championship showdown in the Orange Bowl. Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney says, "The pressure's the same as last year ... only it jumped on us earlier."

The Cornhuskers tooted horns, busted balloons and rang in New Year's 1971 as the nation's No. 3 college football team. The celebration was 24 hours early.

By that evening, Nebraska was fighting for No. 1.

"Our kids knew when we took the Orange Bowl field against LSU that the No. 1 team, Texas, had lost in the Cotton Bowl," said Devaney. "The word soon spread that No. 2 Ohio State had been beaten in the Rose."

Nebraska then whipped Louisiana State and was to sit atop The Associated Press poll for the next 364 days, surviving even a fierce Big Eight Conference fight with second-ranked Oklahoma.

Now comes Alabama, an 11-0 challenger that rose to No. 2 behind the Huskers after Oklahoma had been taken care of.

"Nebraska No. 1 and Alabama No. 2," said Devaney. "That's a nice order of ranking ... let's hope it's still the same on Jan. 2."

Devaney was in Miami Tuesday, making arrangements for the 12-0 Cornhuskers' Dec. 24 arrival for the New Year's Night battle with an 11-0 Alabama team that won the Southeastern Conference title.

"There's a lot of pressure trying to lead wire-to-wire," admitted the veteran coach, "but we sorta enjoy being No. 1 and it's never easy to stay on top. Somebody's always gunning for you."

Devaney said pressure has lived with the Nebraska team all year while "We didn't feel the brunt of the No. 1 thing last season until Texas and Ohio State had been beaten."

Grid Celebrities Arrested Monday

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Atlanta Falcons quarterback Bob Berry and Randy Marshall, a defensive end, were arrested by police who raided Marshall's apartment Monday night.

A spokesman for the Falcons said a statement would be issued later.

Berry was charged with assaulting a police officer and Marshall was charged with keeping a disorderly house, Cobb County police reported.

Police also arrested Carol Nichols, 20, of Marietta, on marijuana charges but released her on $300 bond. Berry and Marshall both were freed on $500 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Price said the three were arrested after about 10 deputies and county police raided Marshall's apartment, where a party was in progress.

The sheriff said less than an ounce of marijuana was recovered and said it had not been determined who was smoking it.

"Whoever had been smoking it was using a coffee pot, like a water pipe," he said.

Berry, who has been the Falcon starter at Quarterback for three seasons, said later, "I've never been involved with marijuana or any kind of dope. I've never smoked it, I'm a little shook up and very upset about the whole thing."

The 29-year-old quarterback said he was in Marshall's apartment when "all of a sudden people were all around ... People were pushing and telling people to clear out. A few minutes later, they had Randy Marshall in a police car."

He said he went to talk to Marshall, and "the first thing I know, people are throwing me on the ground, wrestling me ... Naturally, I fought back and before I knew it, I was in the back seat of a car handcuffed."

Marshall, 25, is a reserve defensive lineman who has seen little action this year because of injury and illness.

Their hearing in court is scheduled Dec. 23.

Eagle Grapplers Welcome Season

It's the first match of the year for both schools, so the importance of getting the season off on the right foot is very evident, as Youngsville awaits the visiting Cranberry Berries.

Youngsville's lineup will be dotted with underclassmen, as only three seniors—Joe Morrison, Albert Moon and Brad Chapman—have been able to work their way through elimination matches to secure starting berths.

Surprisingly, four freshmen have gained the nod, three in the lighter weights and Paul Baker at 165 pounds. According to Eagle Coach Bob Lindsey, Baker was state champion in the Junior Olympics two years ago. Another freshmen, Scott Grady, at 112, reached the finals of the Junior Olympics last year. The other ninth-graders are Randy McKinney, 88 and Chuck Dean at 95 lb.

A generous sprinkling of juniors completes the Eagles' squad, led by Paul Sanford in the 103 lb. division. Others ready to do their mat work are Leonard Brown, 120; Mike Chase, 133; Allan Kuzminski, 145 and Lonnie Williams 154.

Cranberry will present only five lettermen and according to Coach Chuck Ebanoff, are inexperienced at several key positions.

Top grapplers for the Berries are 95-pounder Ray Frantz, who as a freshman last year, was runner-up in sections in the 88 lb. class and senior Tim Tygert who compiled a 16-4 record at the 165 berth.

The Berries will also start their share of underclassmen as two freshmen, three sophomores and three juniors are expected to see mat action along with five seniors.

Ebanoff, whose squad won last year, expects the contest to be close and settled on one of the last two or three matches.

Varsity action will get underway at 8 p.m. following the conclusion of the junior varsity match, which is set for 6:30 p.m.

49ers' Coach Dick Nolan Credits KC Chiefs With Timely Execution

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, after blaming themselves for defeats all season, finally are giving the credit to someone else.

"They beat us because they were able to come through with the big play when they needed it," 49ers Coach Dick Nolan said after the Kansas City Chiefs whipped his team 26-17 in Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

The game left the 49ers desperately in need of help going into the last two weeks of the season. The Chiefs, 8-3-1, went home as division leaders in the American Football Conference West, with a chance to clinch the title next Sunday against Oakland.

"If we play against the Raiders the same way we did against the 49ers, I think we'll be all right," said quarterback Len Dawson, whose passes accounted for 229 yards and one touchdown Monday night.

The 49ers, preseason favorites to win a second straight National Football Conference West title, stand 7-5 with two tough games left, against Atlanta and Detroit.

The Los Angeles Rams, leading the 49ers with a 7-4-1 record, play their next game against Washington. Former Los Angeles coach George Allen and the several ex-Rams on the Redskins' "Over-the-Hill Gang" will be at the Los Angeles Coliseum next Monday night for a spirited homecoming.

Brodie threw his 22nd interception of the season in the Chiefs game, and it led to one of Jan Stenerud's four field goals.

But the 49ers got their share of breaks, too, including a fumble recovery that set up a touchdown. The difference in the game was the offensive excellence of the Chiefs, who out-gained the 49ers 422 yards to 331.

And the Kansas City defense held at crucial spots.

Brodie said the 49ers had success running the ball in the first half, "and then they took that away from us ... You still have to move the ball. This is no game of chess."

The Chiefs' top receiver, Otis Taylor, caught five passes for 81 yards, including a touchdown toss from Dawson that covered 46 yards.

Taylor was covered mostly by cornerback Jimmy Johnson, who has been playing for three weeks with a cast on his broken right wrist.

"When a team has a shortcoming because of injuries, it's nothing to be overlooked," said Chiefs Coach Hank Stram.

Mel Phillips, one of the 49ers' regular safeties, missed most of the game because of a sprained ankle.

The less experienced Johnny Fuller took his place, and Phillips said, "I don't think I could have done any better."

Offensive tackle Len Rohde of the 49ers was in for one play, stretching his consecutive game playing streak to 164, before leaving to rest an injured knee.

Red Smith

NEW YORK—Three years after Joe Cronin fired him by telephone—he thought the American League's president was calling to invite him to umpire the 1968 World Series—Al Salerno is working again, operating a small restaurant in Herkimer, N.Y. He says that Bill Valentine, who was fired the same day in the same way, has some sort of job with the Republican Party in Little Rock, Ark., his home.

"For 2½ years I couldn't get a job," Salerno said. "This mess gave my father a heart attack. My marriage almost broke up. I'd jump out of bed in the middle of the night thinking I had to get to the ballpark. My wife thought I was out of my head."

Salerno is in New York to consult his attorney, Joseph Kerner, about the $1 million damage suit he and Valentine are pressing against Cronin and the American League. The suit in New York Supreme Court charges defamation of character because Cronin said he fired the umpires for incompetence. Salerno and Valentine insist that their efforts to unionize American League umpires cost them their jobs. Cronin gave them the thumb a few days after Salerno met with the National League Umpires Association and said his A.L. accomplices wanted to join the union.

Since then the umpires of both leagues have banded together. American League salaries have been raised to parity with National League standards, expense allowances of $22 a day has been increased to $40, health and life insurance have been provided and annual pensions have risen from $250 for each year of service—$2,500 for a 10-year-man—to $500, or $5,000 after 10 years.

"All on account of Valentine and I," Salerno said.

Salerno is bitter about his former colleagues, who twice voted to go on strike unless he and Valentine were reinstated, and twice backed down after winning financial concessions. The union they helped to create isn't the only place where the unfrocked pair have looked in vain for help. Threats of congressional action in their behalf come to nothing. A $4 million antitrust suit was dismissed because the federal court ruled that it lacked jurisdiction. The National Labor Relations Board did accept jurisdiction—inferentially ruling that baseball was engaged in interstate commerce after all—but the N.L.R.B. rejected a charge of unfair labor practice against Cronin and the league.

Now Cronin's testimony, given during examination before trial, has been entered on the record. Under questioning by Kerner, he testified that in Salerno's seven years of service and Valentine's six he had never complained to them about their work or warned them to change their ways, except that one day at the Minnesota Park he advised Salerno, "Now, Al, hold your temper and walk away from these arguments." Cronin said Cal Hubbard, his supervisor of umpires, never wrote a report critical of either man.

Both, Cronin agreed, received regular annual raises when some other umpires did not.

"I was making $12,000 when I got fired," Salerno said. "Along with a raise, I got a $1,000 bonus the same year he kicked us out."

Asked why he fired Valentine, Cronin said: "Well, baseball is a game of opinion and in my judgment he didn't measure up as an American League umpire."

Question: Can you tell us any other specific reasons why he did not measure up, as you put it?

Answer: No.

Q. Will you tell us what the specific reasons were for your discharge of Salerno?

A. "Well, I would say—all starting from May on, a number of situations had arisen which made it necessary for me to think that he was losing control of the game."

Q. Can you state specifically to what situations you are now referring?

A. "Well, we had a lot of—a number of situations. We had different places in different ballparks throughout the league. Reports would come in from the press and from fans."

Concerning arguments on the field, Cronin was asked whether he, in his playing days, had ever used "the so-called masculine Anglo-Saxon type of four-letter words."

"Very, very, very few times," said Joseph E. Cronin of the Hall of Fame.

The last question: Would you now recommend either of these men for employment in any minor league or in the National League?

A.: Yes.

If that implies that baseball standards in the National League are not so high as those in the American, the Elias Sports Bureau Inc. has news for Joe Cronin. The Bureau's statistics show the American League in 1971 ran about 6,000,000 customers behind the National.

Prothro Worried About Redskins

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — George Allen's presence will be felt by the Los Angeles Rams, Coach Tommy Prothro of the Rams said Tuesday, but he's more concerned with the Washington Redskins' opportunistic defense.

The National Football League nationally-televised game met Monday night marks Allen's first visit to Los Angeles since he was dismissed as the Rams' coach and took the Washington job.

"I think a lot of our players think a great deal of George Allen and I'm sure that some of them are offended by him," Prothro said. "I think you play better against your friends and enemies rather than your acquaintances."

"I'm sure it will be a spirited game," said Prothro.

The Rams, 7-4-1, could clinch the Western Division championship of the National Football Conference with a victory over Washington if San Francisco loses to Atlanta on Sunday.

The 49ers' loss to Kansas City.

Pie Traynor Improving

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Baseball Hall of Famer Harold "Pie" Traynor was reported improved and in satisfactory condition Tuesday in Allegheny General Hospital suffering from a respiratory ailment, a spokesman said.

Traynor, 72, was moved to the hospital's coronary care unit Monday in guarded condition.

The former Pittsburgh Pirates' infielder, who entered the hospital Sunday, was hospitalized earlier this year with a similar respiratory problem.

Rice Succeeds Phillips As Angel Pilot

ANAHEIM (AP) — Del Rice, a major league catcher and coach for 21 years, was named manager today of the California Angels. He was rewarded for leading three Angels' farm teams to pennants in consecutive seasons.

The 49-year-old Rice, who caught for 17 years in the major leagues, succeeds Harold "Lefty" Phillips, who was fired.

The Angels' new general manager, Harry Dalton, announced the selection of Rice and said, "He fits the role completely of the man we need. He had an excellent baseball record and as a manager handled young players very well."

Rice, who has served in the Angels organization for 10 of his 11 years, was signed to a one-year contract as manager. Terms were not announced.

The new manager said he would pick the coaching staff within the next few days. Speculation was that the group would include the veteran Warren Spahn, handling the pitchers; Harry "Peanuts" Lowrey, and Bobby Winkles, currently the Arizona State University head coach.

Rice becomes only the third manager in the history of the club. Phillips replaced the original skipper, Bill Rigney, on May 27, 1969.

Both General Manager Dick Walsh and Phillips were dismissed following a dismal 1971 campaign during which the club experienced manifold troubles. Alex Johnson, the American League batting champion in 1970, was suspended in June and Tony Conigliaro, acquired before the season from the Boston Red Sox, announced his retirement several weeks later, claiming failing eyesight.

"It's great to be back in the major leagues," Rice commented. "It has always been my ambition to manage in the majors. It's what I've been working for all my life."

As a catcher, he played 10 of his 17 seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals and was in the 1946 World Series with that club and in the 1957 World Series with the Milwaukee Braves, batting .333 in five games.

He also was an Angels' coach from 1962 to 1966 and a coach for the Cleveland Indians in 1967.

As a manager four seasons in the Angel organization, his teams never finished lower than third. They won pennants the past three seasons at San Jose, El Paso and, in 1971, at Salt Lake City.

A native of Portsmouth, Ohio, he lettered in baseball, basketball, football and track and was signed to his first contract by the late Branch Rickey of the Cardinals.

For five years he had a double athletic career, playing professional baseball and professional basketball, the latter with the Rochester Royals of the National Basketball Association from 1942 to 1946.

Dalton said the Angels already are a young ball club and added, "I think in the future we may become even younger."

"I'm tickled to death to be here, boys," Rice told a news conference. "I'm just going to do the best I can."

He did not predict an immediate pennant and said the club will try to make a few deals before spring training.

The Angels last season finished fourth after pre-campaign predictions that they would be a top contender in the Western Division of the American League.

The appointment of the 49-year-old Rice for a one-year term ended a five-week search by Harry Dalton, the Angels' new general manager.

Rice's coaching staff was not named at the news conference.

Rice, a catcher for 17 major league seasons who also coached with the Angels and Cleveland Indians for four more campaigns, succeeds Harold "Lefty" Phillips, who was fired after a strife-torn season along with general manager Dick Walsh.

"This is the greatest Christmas present I've ever had," Rice said.

He managed the Angels' Salt City team to a 78-68 record in 1971, winning the Southern Division title of the Pacific Coast League.

Dallas QB Swallows Bitterness

DALLAS (AP) — It's no fun being No. 2 but the veteran Craig Morton is swallowing any bitterness he may have over losing his Dallas Cowboy quarterbacking job to Roger Staubach.

"The team has more consistency with one quarterback," Morton acknowledged. "Oh of course, I'd like to be playing. But I've got an optimistic attitude. Roger is doing a great job and the defense is doing a great job."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry experimented with alternating his two quarterbacks at the start of the season but six weeks ago turned the job over to Staubach, the scrambling former Navy star.

Since then, the Cowboys have won five games and leaped to the top of the Eastern Division of the National Football Conference.

Morton, who has been the Cowboys' No. 1 quarterback for much of his seven years on the team, might have been expected, after his demotion, to issue a "play me or trade me" edict.

But he didn't.

"I will have to make up my mind after the season what I want to do," Morton says. "It wouldn't do me any good or the team any good to say anything now."

"I prepare for each game as though I was a starter. What I want for this team now is to win. I'll think about myself later."

Morton, who took the Cowboys to the Super Bowl last season despite a sore arm which limited his passing ability, says he can see third-year man Staubach improve with each game.

"The more you play the more you know and that's the case in Roger's situation," Morton said. "You can see him grasping things better."

Morton played most of the second half Saturday against the New York Jets after Dallas had piled up a 38-3 halftime lead.

He completed four of six passes for 75 yards, including a 20-yard touchdown pass to Lance Alworth.

"I thought I might be starting the second half after we got so far ahead," Morton said.

Market Makes Strong Late Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — A strong late recovery carried stock market prices back into plus territory after early profit taking abated in Tuesday's moderately active trading.

The closing Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose 1.68 to 857.40.

Analysts said the early slide was a continuation of Monday's profit taking and consolidation on the rally gains of the seven previous sessions. They noted it was an encouraging sign that activity tapered off with the selling and gained momentum as prices began to rise.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks climbed .24 to 53.49.

Big Board volume was 15.25 million shares, compared with 17.48 million shares Monday.

There were 762 advances and 636 declines out of 1,708 issues traded on the Big Board.

Bleeds To Death

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 20-year-old girl bled to death in her wrecked car Monday night because no one suspected the car had been in an accident, police said.

Constance Panagoulas of Wexford was dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital after she was found trapped in her car. Police said the vehicle had run off Parkway East near the Fort Duquesne Bridge and stopped right side up in a parking area after striking an abutment.

She was discovered later by an office worker.

Mary Landin
Sugar Grove
PB&T Officer

Mrs. Mary Landin

A life-long Sugar Grove-Ashville area resident, Mrs. Mary Landin, has been made an officer of Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co. and named assistant manager of the bank's Sugar Grove office.

Mrs. Landin entered the banking field when she joined Warren Bank and Trust Co. at its Sugar Grove office in August 1952. She has worked in all areas of that office, serving as a teller, bookkeeper, in the proof department and as head of the note department.

A graduate of Panama Central School where she majored in business, Mrs. Landin is married to James C. Landin, who owns and operates a large farm at RD 2, Ashville, N. Y.

The Landins have four children: John of Warren; Judy Biehls, Beaver; Bonnie Froman, North Clymer and Mary Sweeney of Panama, N. Y.

Mrs. Landin is a member of People's Church in Sugar Grove, where she has been active on various committees and has served as treasurer of the church for several years. She is the former Mary Eggleston.

Burglars Strike Titusville Store

TITUSVILLE—The Eckerd Drug Store in Titusville's Drake Mall was burglarized sometime during the night Sunday, and $1,900 in cash, numerous drugs and other items were taken.

The burglary was discovered by employees when the store was opened for business Monday morning.

Titusville police reported that besides the cash and drugs, a number of watches and S&H Green Stamps were stolen.

Store employees are currently taking inventory to determine the amount and value of the items stolen.

Police said entry to the building was gained through the roof. An air conditioning unit on the roof had been forced open, providing access through the ventilating ducts.

Investigation Sought In Venango County

An investigation into the traffic accident which resulted in the deaths of Mrs. Lavena Keyes, of RD 3, Titusville, and Timothy Gonzales of Reno in Venango County on Nov. 11, was ordered by a coroner's jury in Venango County Monday.

No recommendations as to charges were given.

Mrs. Keyes was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Sandra Donovan, 24, of RD 5, Titusville. The Donovan auto was traveling north on Route 8 at the time of the accident.

A second car, operated by Michael Hoover, 15, of Reno, went into a skid while passing a car, crossed the roadway and struck the front of the Donovan auto.

Guilty Pleas Made On Drug Charges

RED HOUSE, N. Y. — Four Bradford residents paid $25 each after pleading guilty Sunday to sixth degree criminal possession of dangerous drugs. Park police reportedly found an ounce of marijuana and 80 capsules believed to contain barbiturates in their car during a routine conservation search.

Taken before Cold Springs Town Justice Laura Bennett, the four were identified as Robert Kemick, 20, of 1065 W. Washington st.; James Romanelli, 17, of 179½ W. Washington st.; David Helander, 24, of 58 Clarence st. and Sharon Levia, 20, also of the Clarence st. address.

Snowmobilers Meet

Members of the Northern Allegheny Snowmobile Association will meet Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. at the home of Bill and Janice Acklin, 522 River rd., Starbrick.

About one-tenth of the Earth's land surface is permanently covered with ice.

Rain Deluges County, Floods Roads, Streets, Basements

BEATY FIELD PARTIALLY FLOODED

CONEWANGO CREEK IN NORTH WARREN AREA

Nearly two inches of steady rain soaked Warren Borough and Warren County Tuesday causing numerous flooded roads and streets, but not seriously hampering transportation in this area.

A spokesman at the state highway department garage at Starbrick said some road crews were out during the day placing warning signs of high water, principally near the Tidoute and Barnes area. At the latter area, Rt. 666 was reported covered with water in places. Also, it was reported that some 1,000 feet of the road near Pittsfield was under some 18 inches of water.

Flooded road conditions were also reported at the Scandia Fire Department area, the highway department spokesman said.

Carl Pasquerette, chief of the borough street department, said upper Prospect st., Jefferson st., north Fourth ave. between Morrison and Pine sts.

and part of Conewango ave. were flooded at times during the rain. Also parts of Buchanan st., Pasquerette said. Department crews have pumped out some basements and were still engaged in this work during the evening hours, he added.

Neither Pennsylvania Gas Co. nor Columbia Gas Co. reported any emergency calls made to them during Tuesday due to high water problems. Pennsylvania Electric Co., also, had no troubles related to high water.

There were reports that Route 62 in the Tionesta area was under water in places. State Police at the Warren substation reported no incidents related to the rain or high water.

Stir up something new with Dinty Moore. Vegetable Stew.

(He'll pay you 25¢ to try your hand.)

Now Dinty makes a stew that you can invent things with. Dinty's new Vegetable Stew is a perfect base. Because it contains more than just vegetables. There's also a delicious meat gravy.

So no matter what kind of meat you add, the meal you invent is bound to have a rich, hearty flavor.

Add a pound of browned ground beef, and it's a great way to serve hamburger. (For families who thought they'd had hamburger every way imaginable.)

Or just mix in any leftover meat you have. And the leftovers become a great main dish.

Try Dinty's latest. It's the vegetable stew for meat-eaters.

THIRD AND CONEWANGO AVES. AFL-CIO Lobbying For Reform Of Workmen's Compensation

HARRISBURG (AP) — AFL-CIO lobbyists Tuesday threw their weight behind a proposal to reform the workmen's compensation law. The six-bill package has been stalled by opposition in the Senate.

Harry A. Boyer, president of the million-member labor organization, said he asked all senators in a telegram to support the bills and end "an outmoded, inefficient system that fosters delay and neglect."

He said union representatives would discuss the bills with lawmakers individually.

The bills lay idle on the Senate calendar for 10 sessions and under the chamber's rules were returned to the Labor and Industry Committee on Monday.

Majority Leader Thomas F. Lamb, D-Allegheny, said then they would be reported out again sometime this week.

At a news conference, Boyer said members of both parties in the Senate were holding up the bills because of a provision which would put the 31 workmen compensation referees under civil service.

Under the existing system, referees are political appointees of the governor and subject to confirmation by two-thirds of the Senate.

"This is the only state which does not provide by law for a professional corps of hearing referees protected by a tenure arrangement . . . freeing these quasi-judicial officers of political or other pressures and influences," Boyer added.

"The result has been a shameful neglect of the rights and needs of injured workers," he said.

Boyer said some 200 workers in the state are injured each day and the workmen's compensation program has a backlog of 15,000 cases.

"There are business interests of sizeable importance that are in favor of this legislation," Boyer claimed.

Other provisions in the package:

— Eliminate the semi-independent status of the program and put it entirely under control of the secretary of Labor and Industry.

— Require that benefits start within 15 days of notice of injury.

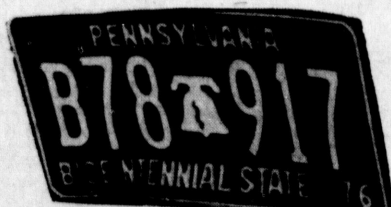

— Extend the period for claims from 16 months to two years.

— Remove the statutory salary level of $10,000 for hearing referees, leaving salary-setting to the discretion of the board.

— Permit appeals from board decision to be settled by Commonwealth Court.

A large group of friends enjoyed a delightful evening Saturday, when Pat and John McGarry entertained for a cocktail party at their home, 510 Connecticut ave.

Miss Mara Levinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Levinson, 1825 Market st. extension, was hostess to a number of friends on Saturday when she celebrated her 16th birthday anniversary.

All members of the Woman's Club are invited to participate in the Arts and Crafts courses being offered beginning at the start of the New Year. A needlework clinic is scheduled each Tuesday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. beginning January 11. Those interested are asked to contact Mrs. John Koedel at 726-0109. Mrs. Helen Morrow will conduct a class in decoupage beginning February 22. The first project will be the making of antique plaques and will progress to more difficult pieces. Mrs. Morrow may be reached by calling 723-5126.

Local attorney, Rocky O'Sheill, once again took over chef's duties for a party of deer hunters in a nearby camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bogenreif of Matthews Run, Youngsville, have informed us recent holiday guests at their home were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bogenreif, all from Woodbridge, N.J. The Williams' have purchased Carlson's general store on Matthews Run and plan to reopen the business in the summer or early fall of 1972.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We have two adorable grandchildren. They mean the world to us. But we have such a poor relationship with their parents (both professionals with superb educations) that we have given up visiting the children in their home. Added to that problem, when the youngsters come to see us there is always a scene when their parents come to pick them up. They don't want to leave.

My daughter-in-law is beautiful and talented, but her looks and brilliance are badly overshadowed by her miserably disposition. She has completely dominated our son, the way her mother had dominated her father. The girl's parents want nothing to do with her. She cannot get along with anyone. Our grandchildren are, I'm afraid, going to be ruined by this impossible, ill-tempered woman.

From time to time, my husband and I have had to come up with considerable money to save their poorly selected investments. Instead of gratitude we get abuse. We would not bail them out if we weren't concerned about our darling grandchildren. We feel an obligation to protect their future. Please, Ann, tell us how to maintain a good relationship with our grandchildren in view of the obstacles. My husband and I are—Bewildered In Cleveland

DEAR B.: It's a mess. I can smell it all the way to Chicago. My advice is to avoid conflict with your son and his wife even if it means biting your tongue. Don't criticize them, don't make any suggestions, don't try to train their children, and don't try to save their "poorly selected" investments. Get over the idea that you can raise these children. You can't. Their parents are going to be the major influence in their lives, not you and your husband. Just give them plenty of love and affection whenever you have the opportunity and enjoy them.

Remember Pets At Christmas

Santa Claus, in the form of little boys and girls, makes Christmas gifts for the kittens and puppies of his acquaintance. All the little Santas need are brown boxes (free from the neighborhood grocer), a set of permanent ink markers, plain brown wrapping paper and rubber cement.

The little gift maker cuts down the carton to fashion a snugly bed for his little pet. He covers the printing on the carton by pasting plain brown wrapping paper all around. Now he's ready to create. With the pens he can print his pet's name right on the front. He might even draw his friend or color a Christmas tree, a star or a bell. Even holly can be pictured in holiday colors.

Old blankets or pillows will be fitting "furniture" for the little pet's new, colorful, Christmas home. And little Santa did it himself!

Open House

An open house is to be observed Saturday, Dec. 11 to honor Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mills on their 25th wedding anniversary.

The event is to be held from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Irvine Presbyterian Church Christian Education Building in Irvine.

Hosts are to be Mr. and Mrs. Dale (Ellen Mills) Smith.

Neighbors and friends have been invited.

Breakfast Briefs

Robert Hunt directed a five-table Howell movement game at the Frewsburg Bridge Club at Our Lady of Victory Hall, Frewsburg. Twenty-seven boards were in play with an average of 54. Winners were Mrs. C.J. Mohr and Ann Mohr, 69 points; The Rev. Thomas Kemp and Mrs. J.E. Hunt, 66½ points; Mrs. Charles Stoltz and Florence McCadden, 59½ points; Mr. and Mrs. Premo LoPresto, 58½ points; Mrs. Marian Thompson and Harold Williams, 57 points. There are to be no games until after the holidays, with the next game scheduled for January 8 at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Francis Spicer and co-hostess Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Jr. entertained the Friendly Neighbor Club at a Christmas party Dec. 1 in the form of a picnic under the Christmas tree. Games were played with the prize going to Mrs. Herbert Erikson. Jokes and poems were read, including an original Christmas poem by Mrs. Harold Lindsey. Next meeting is to be held Jan. 5 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lindsey, with Mrs. Richard Myers as co-hostess.

Find it difficult to wake up in the morning? Glen Urquhart Lodge in Drumadroit, Scotland serves Atholl Brose to ward off the damp chill of a Scottish morning's search for the Loch Ness Monster. The concoction is a mixture of a quarter-pound of heather honey, a quarter-pound of oatmeal and a pint of Scotch. The mixture is put into jars and stored for two days before serving, and bears absolutely no resemblance to the porridge that Goldilocks gobbled up.

Mary Jane Hackett Wed In California

Mary Jane Hackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hackett, 309 East Fifth Avenue, was married in California November 20, 1971 to Terry Heggeness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Heggeness, 703 Roosevelt road, Long Beach, California. The double-ring ceremony took place before an altar decorated in baskets of carnations, mums, and eucalyptus. The Rev. Monsignor James M. Gilfillan, pastor of Mary, Star of The Sea Catholic Church, LaJolla, California, performed the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Edward Hansen provided music for the ceremony and the reception which followed.

As she was escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was dressed in a white crepe floor length gown with a train, empire waist, and high ruffled neckline. The pleated, bell sleeves matched the pleated bodice of the gown. A Juliet cap, trimmed with pearls, secured the elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and cornflowers with eucalyptus accents.

The maid of honor was Judy Northern, Glendale, Arizona. Bridesmaids were Jo Heggeness, Long Beach, California; Jaclyn Heggeness, Long Beach, California; Mrs. Jerry Swanson, Lakewood, California, all sisters of the bridegroom. Junior bridesmaid was Julie Heggeness, Long Beach, California, also the bridegroom's sister.

Jerry Swanson, Lakewood, California, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was chosen as best man. Ushers were Mike Hackett, brother of the bride; Bob Basie, Tucson, Arizona; and Richard Donaldson, Las Vegas, Nevada.

A reception for the couple was given at the Catamaran Hotel, San Diego, California. Mrs. Gayle Bean, El Cajon, California, was reception aide.

The couple chose San Francisco, California and Lake Tahoe as their honeymoon destination. They are now at home at 4247 Montaloo street, Apartment 3, San Diego, California.

Avocados never soften on the tree; they must be cut from the tree and held at room temperature to become ripe for eating.

MRS. TERRY HEGGENESS

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Warren Area High School and a graduate of Edinboro State College, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. She is now teaching in the San Diego City School District.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oregon State University, where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi Fraternity. He is now attending the United States International University, California Western School of Law.

A rehearsal dinner for the bride and groom was given by the bridegroom's parents at the West Gate Plaza, San Diego, California. Prenuptial showers were given by Mrs. Clark Heggeness and daughters; and Judy Northern.

Traditional Chanukah Feast With Variations

VARIATIONS ON TRADITIONAL JEWISH CUISINE make this Chanukah feast especially festive

Make this year's Chanukah feast an especially memorable one by serving an imaginative dinner featuring variations on traditional Jewish cuisine. The foods are festive to commemorate the great miracle, yet familiar like the simple family pleasures traditionally enjoyed during the long twilight hours of the eight-day festival.

The Festival of Lights feast would be incomplete without latkes, the traditional Jewish pancakes. These tasty Cottage Latkes with Lox are made with beaten eggs, milk and cottage cheese thickened with flour, leavened with baking powder, and enriched with butter. The lacy pancakes are cooked on a buttered griddle 'til golden brown, spread with dairy sour cream, stuffed with lox and rolled. For best results, use the less salty Nova Scotia smoked salmon. Serve this unusual entree with Creamy Mushroom Sauce, a basic white sauce filled with sliced mushrooms and seasoned with thyme. A garnish of dill adds eye-and taste-appeal.

Lox go with bagels like candles with Chanukah. Here the traditional chewy bread is served with lots of fresh creamery butter as an accompaniment to the festive entree. Bagels are also delicious spread with cheese from the Chanukah Cheese Ball, a creamy mixture of cream cheese, shredded Cheddar and shredded Gouda combined with port wine. The cheese is shaped into a ball, rolled in paprika and flavorful toasted seeds of the sesame plant, an herb native to the Middle East. This attractive cheese ball not only can be made ahead, but should be to give the cheese flavors time to blend and the paprika time to turn a festive dark red. Store well wrapped in the refrigerator for as long as a week, but bring to room temperature before serving. Decorate the cheese ball with leaves or other garnish of your choice and serve with fresh fruit in season such as sliced apples and pears.

So this year, on the Night of the Fifth Candle, gather your family together around the glowing Menorah and serve this delightful kosher meal with pride.

COTTAGE LATKES WITH LOX

3 eggs
1 cup milk
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup (½ stick) butter, melted
¾ cup dairy sour cream
12 - 14 strips lox (about 1 lb.)

In a small mixing bowl beat eggs; add milk and cottage cheese beating until almost smooth. Blend in flour, baking powder and ¼ cup melted butter. Using ¼ cup measure; pour batter onto well-buttered preheated griddle (380 degrees F.) Bake until top is bubbly and edges baked. Turn and bake other side. Spread each cake with a scant tablespoon of sour cream and 1 or 2 strips of lox. Roll up pancakes; place in lightly buttered 13x9x2-inch baking pan, seam side down. Place in preheated 350 degree oven 10-15 minutes to warm lox. Serve with Creamy Mushroom Sauce. Makes 12 - 14 pancakes.

CREAMY MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
Milk
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon thyme
Dill weed
Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid; add milk to make 2 cups. In 2-quart saucepan melt butter; saute mushrooms 2-3 minutes. Blend in flour and thyme. Cook over low heat until mixture is smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in milk. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Serve over Cottage Cheese Latkes. Garnish with dill weed. Yield: 2½ cups.

CHANUKAH CHEESE BALL

1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, at room temperature
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese, at room temperature
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Gouda cheese, at room temperature
2 tablespoons dry white wine
Paprika
¼ cup toasted sesame seed
In a small mixing bowl beat together cream, Cheddar and Gouda cheeses with wine until smooth. Chill. Shape into ball. Roll in paprika and sesame seed; wrap in protective wrap. Store overnight or longer to blend flavors. Bring to room temperature for serving. Serve with sliced apples and pears. Yield: 1 2/3 cups.

Couple Honored On 25th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH JOHNSON

Open house was held Nov. 14 at Scandia Fire Hall to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of Kenneth and Elnora Johnson, RD 1, Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were married Nov. 16, 1946 at the Scandia Covenant Church by the Rev. K. E. Pearson.

A three-tiered cake was decorated in silver and pink and was topped with the numbers "25". Aides were Evangeline Anderson, Elaine Gates, Romaine Johnson, Bernice Reynolds and Dora Wedlock. Judy Johnson, the couple's youngest daughter, carried the guest book.

Mrs. Johnson greeted her guests in a silver and white knit dress, to which was pinned a pink carnation corsage.

The affair was hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Albaugh, Mr. and Mrs. John Colter, Ronald, Gayle, Gary and Judy Johnson.

J. Edward Check Honored On 85th Birthday

You Can Do Away With Shocking Experiences

Static electricity in the home can be avoided, according to home comfort experts.

Static electricity builds up in the home when the air is dry and there are no conductors of electricity, such as humidity in the air, readily available to disperse the electricity.

The easiest way to eliminate the problem is with a portable home humidifier. A portable humidifier will place sufficient moisture in the air, allowing electricity to discharge into the atmosphere rather than shocking a hand as it touches a door knob or some other metal object.

Besides helping to short circuit static electricity, a portable humidifier helps relieve unpleasant physical irritations, such as dry nasal passage and scaly skin.

The name avocado came from the Aztec named for the fruit, "ahuacate".

Ackley Grange Meets

A box of gifts have been collected and delivered to the Rouse Home for Christmas, by members of the Ackley Grange.

The Grange has a large supply of the redcovered Pennsylvania State Grange cookbooks for sale. Anyone desiring to purchase one or more, may call Alice Kitzlinger at 757-8472 or 757-9963.

Master Lyle Moore have a report of the recent Pomona meeting held at Diamond, at the recent meeting of the grange. The Warren Grange Kitchen Band in charge of Kathryn Koebly put on a variety program consisting of jokes, readings, monologue, and band music. The ladies were all donned in aprons and pan hats trimmed with small kitchen utensils. Shirleyanne Johnson played two piano solos during intermission.

On Friday, Dec. 17, there is to be no business meeting. Instead, the annual Christmas party is to be held at 8 p.m. in the hall. Program is in charge of Womens Activities Committee. Each family is to bring their special refreshment to share; and each adult is to bring a $1 gift for exchange. Parents of small children are to bring gifts with names on them.

The Lyle Moore and Don Zimmerman families served refreshments to the members and guests at holiday tables.

Opening lead: Three of ♣ Correct placement of the adversely held cards by the declarer spells the key to success on many deals as is illustrated by today's hand taken from a recent team of four match.

The bidding was the same at both tables. Even with favorable vulnerability conditions, East's overall of one heart is somewhat questionable, altho it did serve to get his partner off to the most effective defense against the final contract of three no trump with South as the declarer.

West opened the three of hearts, and East put up the king to return the seven. At one table, declarer considered the possibilities. West's lead of a low heart—as well as his raise during the auction—appeared to mark him with an honor in the suit.
South finally decided to play
East for the ace and king of hearts and West for the jack.

In an attempt to block communications, declarer played the queen of hearts at trick two. Had his analysis of the heart holdings been correct, the play of the queen would have blocked the suit. When the diamond finesse is taken subsequently and loses to East's king, he cannot cash the ace of hearts
without dropping partner's jack and thereby establishing South's ten. If East leads a low heart to West, the latter is in, but has no way of reaching East again, and the heart suit is retired from the play.

As matters actually developed, when South played the queen of hearts, West put up the ace and returned the four. East cashed the jack and cleared the suit by dislodging South's ten. When East got in again with the king of diamonds, he cashed
the setting trick with the nine of hearts.

It would not have availed declarer to put in the ten of hearts at trick two, for the final result would have been the same. On a third round of the suit, East's nine drives out the queen and two heart tricks are taken by the defense when the diamond finesse loses.

At the other table, South came up with an effective countermeasure—but on a different line of reasoning.
When the seven of hearts was returned by East at trick two, declarer merely ducked altogether, and this play actually succeeded in blocking the suit. West covered South's ten of hearts with the ace on the next round, but now he had no hearts to return.

West exited with the queen of spades and North played the ace. The closed hand was entered with the ace of clubs to put the queen of diamonds thru. East was in with the king, however South won the heart return with the queen and claimed the balance for nine tricks, having lost three hearts and one diamond.

South reasoned as follows:
In order to raise his partner to two hearts, West appeared marked with one of the missing red suit honors. A high heart appeared the most likely possibility, inasmuch as the king of diamonds would not appear of much value to West since it is located in front of the diamond bidder. If West has either the ace or king of hearts,
then the only way to block the suit is to play a small heart at trick two.

Observe that South would still have succeeded, had East held the ace, king-of hearts and West the jack—provided that the latter had the king of diamonds. With the diamond finesse succeeding, declarer is assured of three diamond tricks, four clubs and two spades once he gains the lead and there is no way that the defense can take more than the first three heart tricks before surrendering the initiative.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
FOR WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1971

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) — Your planetary influences, generous now, indicate that you can accomplish a great deal; warn, however, against taking on too much or scattering energies.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) — Some new suggestions or propositions may be offered. Study each carefully and accept or reject on the basis of enduring worth and the general good. No hasty decisions!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — Thanks to your foresight, your plans seem headed for success now. But do be careful not to repeat errors which may have hindered you in the past.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Two admonitions for this day: Avoid impetuosity and don't drop a project which, even though slow-moving, is essentially productive, in favor of one whose outcome may be dubious.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) — A few "surprises" indicated now—some which will please you, others which may not. Take the bad with the good—in your usual philosophical manner.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — You may be up against some unusual competition in your field, so keep alert. With your fine intelligence you should find ways to outrun the best.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Day starts out brightly, and you can keep it that way, if you will. Just be careful not to let irresponsible persons lead you into unproductive activities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) — Entrust your affairs only to the trustworthy if you MUST put them in other hands but, where possible, handle what you can yourself. Curb emotions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Don't "get ahead of yourself" and invite tensions. As they have in the past, your innate skill, imagination and good judgment will support you in tight spots.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — The busier the day, the more efficient you often become. But be careful now not to overtax yourself by attempting too much. Don't waste time on non-essentials.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Are you making the best use of your talents—AND in the right areas? Here is a time for reviewing—and possibly some adjustments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Just "keeping busy" is no guarantee of success. The important thing now is to be selective in your undertakings and waste no time on unproductive ventures. KNOW your goals.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly talented individual, conservative in thought and manner but extremely progressive in your methods and in the steps you take toward the attainment of your goals. Many fields are open to you in your choice of careers, but you could make an outstanding success in the business and financial worlds. You are a born leader; attract people to you and have many friends of both sexes. If you do not choose commerce as a career, you could—properly educated, of course—excel in medicine, the law, music, writing or science. Birthdate of: Horace, Roman poet; Christina, 17th Cent. Queen of Sweden; Jan Sibelius, famed Finnish composer; Hervey Allen, author.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

BLOOD DONORS

Many hospitals no longer want blood for transfusions from professional donors and skid-row alcoholics. These people may transmit viral hepatitis (infection of the liver) to the recipients. The chance is much less when donors are selected from the healthy segment of our population. Until better tests are available, this must be done to determine whether the blood of the donor contains the hepatitis virus.

Meanwhile, blood will be in short supply. The qualifications for being a blood donor vary in different institutions but, in general, they follow a similar pattern. Men and women between 18 and 65, weighing 110 pounds (or more) make good potential donors. But they must not have or have had jaundice or hepatitis, malaria, diabetes, or a history of diseases of the heart, kidneys, lung, liver, or any form of cancer (except skin cancer).

Those qualifying will be asked to delay their donation if they have a cold or flu, are pregnant, had a baby within six months, or a tooth extracted within the last 72 hours. The latter is suggested because during the extraction microorganisms may get into the bloodstream. The donation also is postponed when the individual is taking sulfa drugs or antibiotics, such as penicillin. The recipient may be sensitive to these drugs.

Blood donations are not accepted if the individual is having an attack of asthma or hay fever. Do not apply if within the last two months the hernia was repaired or the appendix, hemorrhoids, or tonsils were removed. Persons returning from Vietnam are disqualified for two years from date of return. Many blood banks also have rules regarding not eating fats for four hours before the donation and not to use alcohol for a full 12 hours. Both get into the blood.

A normal healthy person can donate blood every eight weeks or five times a year. It takes less than a month to make up the loss of a pint of blood.

TOMORROW: Children Who Eat poorly.
Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

DAYDREAMING

Miss P. writes: Can arteriosclerosis cause the mind to wander?

REPLY

This is a moot question, as daydreaming is more prevalent among teen-agers than in the elderly. There is no correlation between senility and hardening of the brain arteries. Our leaflet on senility can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

SALT AND BLOOD PRESSURE

F.D. writes: Why is salt intake restricted in high blood pressure?

REPLY

Because the sodium in salt aggravates the elevated blood pressure. Salt, however, has no effect on a normal pressure nor does it cause hypertension. Diuretics encourage the excretion of salt by the kidneys and reduce the blood pressure.

STIMULANTS

Miss H. writes: What do stimulants stimulate?

REPLY

Ailing organs, tired glands, and depressed minds.

Schiller Charges DA's Office With Hampering Narcotics Raid

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The director of the state Narcotics Strike Force Tuesday accused Allegheny County Dist. Atty. Robert Duggan's office with hampering a state police investigation that resulted in 31 arrests in Pittsburgh last week.

Berle Schiller, amid unconfirmed reports that Justice Department officials were critical of the handling of the raids, said Duggan's office was not informed about the arrests prior to the massive drug raid Friday, because "his men were ill-equipped to work with the strike force."

Record Budget For Pittsburgh: $11.64 Million

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Recommending a real estate tax cut of two mills on land and one mill on buildings, Mayor Peter Flaherty has proposed a record $11.64 million city budget for 1972.

Flaherty, citing a cash surplus of $9.2 million, said Monday in his budget address the city's financial stability is "better than it has been for the past 10 years."

Though the real estate tax cut will cost the city about $1.6 million, Flaherty's plan calls for the city to spend $8.2 million more than the $103.4 million 1971 budget.

The mayor said the surplus—acquired through a tight austerity program—had made it possible.

If city council accepts the tax cut, it will reduce the city millage rate to 53 mills on land and 26½ on buildings.

It would be the first real estate tax cut in the city since 1957 and save a property owner with a $25,000 home about $15 per year.

Flaherty also proposed a 5 per cent raise for all non-uniformed city employees earning less than $10,000 per year and a flat $500 hike for those earning more.

Man Found Guilty In Non-Jury Trial

A Warren man, Robert J. Lucas, was found guilty in a non-jury trial Monday on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The charge stemmed from an accident on Conewango ave. earlier this year when a car operated by Lucas struck a legally parked car owned by Mrs. Robert W. Lewis of 106 Conewango ave.

Also on Monday, at a hearing before Judge Robert L. Wolfe, Terry L. Bailor, of 1459 Jackson Run rd., was found not guilty for failure to stop for a stop sign.

Police said McCracken was charged specifically with breaking and entering the International Beauty School on three occasions, June 15, July 26 and Nov. 28; also with entering the Elks Club June 17 and making off with about $60; Thrifty Cleaners on Aug. 22 when allegedly $800 was taken; Union Hall on Nov. 20 when $50 in cash and $103 in checks were taken; Option Hotel, Nov. 25, with some $70 stolen; the Senior Center with about $2 taken and last Saturday, Steppes Beauty Salon with some keys and about $20 taken.

Chief Zimmerman also stated that McCracken attempted to enter Michele's store and the M.I.S. offices last weekend.

Infant 'Runs' For President

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After 21 days of life, Stuart Lee Kramer, a baby, is under consideration for President of the United States.

If you don't believe the news, ask Stuart's parents, who have erected a billboard near their home which reads — in big black letters—STUART KRAMER FOR PRESIDENT!

"At 7 lbs., 3 oz., He's No Standardized Form Ready

HARRISBURG (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Herbert Denenberg said Tuesday his department has come up with a standardized policy form which many insurance companies may use.

"There are so many variations of the fine print in insurance policies that the consumer is left totally confused," he said in a statement.

The forms involve life, and accident and health insurance.

Lightweight! the billboard continues.

True to political campaign laws, the billboard is identified as "A Political Announcement Paid for by the Stuart Kramer-President Committee." Besides Stuart's, the two names which appear on the billboard are those of his mother, Phyllis Kramer, named as the "Production Manager," and father Jack Kramer, the "Funds Director."

The Kramers, who live in Philadelphia, have 2006 targeted as the year their son, Stuart, will enter the White House.

Asked what political party their son will embrace, Jack Kramer, the proud father who engineered the infant's candidacy, said:

"Let's put it this way, he's a boy for all the people, when you see him you know he's an extraordinary child."

Wednesday's TV Hilites

The McMillans (Rock Hudson and Susan Saint James) investigate a professional football team when an autographed ball points to murder in "Death Is a Seven Point Favorite," to be televised on NBC Mystery Movie at 8:30 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6 and 12. Their friend, Bill Benton, quarterback of the team is the suspect.

Lung cancer is the villain in "Conspiracy" on Medical Center at 9:00 p.m. on Chs. 4, 10 and 35. Suzanne Pleshette stars as the fearful victim determined to keep her nightmare as a secret from the man she loves, because she is frightened he won't marry her if he finds out.

Officers Malloy (Martin Milner) and Reed (Kent McCord) are twice attacked by a sniper who later zeroes in on Reed in "Assassination" on Adam-12 at 8:00 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6 and 12. The officers are first fired upon at a secluded spot when they respond to a phony call.

Burgess Meredith and David McCallum guest-star as father and son on The Man and the City at 10:00 p.m. on Ch. 7. The story is about the split between a proud cabinetmaker and a mentally impaired son who is incapable of carrying on the family tradition.

New Stamp To Honor Pharmacists

A postage stamp will be issued next year in tribute to the service role played by the nation's 100,000 pharmacists. Two regular stamps also will be issued, said postmaster Frank A. Fago.

The stamp will be keyed to the theme "Partners in Health." A stamp honoring doctors appeared in 1947. There was a stamp in 1959 to salute the 150th anniversary of the American Dental Assoc. In 1961, nurses had their stamp, and earlier this year American hospitals were commemorated with a postal card.

Design of the pharmacy stamp and date and place of issuance will be announced later.

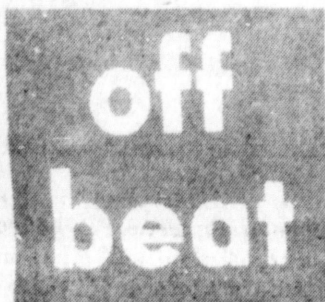

Two regular postage stamps intended to meet the preferential rate for educational materials also will be issued next year.

The stamp will honor: Benjamin Franklin. His myriad interests included advancement of education and service as the first Postmaster General. The denomination will be 7 cents.

Fiorella La Guardia, who in three terms as New York City mayor brought sweeping reforms to the city and reorganization of its government. New Yorkers called him with affection "The Little Flower." This will be a 14-cent stamp.

The special fourth class rate which the new stamps in the Prominent American series will cover is 14-cents for the first pound, 7 cents for each additional pound or fraction. Mailed under this rate are books, non-commercial films and similar educational materials.

The Postal Service also announced that the Family Planning stamp planned for issuance this year will be postponed until 1972 and that the Folklore series, reported as a set of two stamps for 1972, will consist of only one stamp, featuring Tom Sawyer.

Grove City College's most illustrious alumnus, J. Howard Pew of the family-owned Sun Oil Co., has left the college $1 million in stock and a collection of paintings by some of the world's great masters. Pew died Nov. 27 at the age of 89. His estate is estimated to be valued at $80 to $100 million. His will stipulates that the college is to receive 20,000 shares of Sun Oil stock, valued at $1 million. It is to be used for new construction.

Despite flash flood warnings effective from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. Tuesday, determined Christmas shoppers braved the downpour as they went about the business of selecting gifts. According to reports from Warren County Civil Defense, the warnings affected western Pennsylvania, including the counties of Warren, Greene, Washington, Beaver, Lawrence, Mercer, Crawford, Venango, Butler, Allegheny, Fayette, Westmoreland, Armstrong, Clarion, Forest, Elk, McKean, Jefferson, Indiana, Somerset and Cambria.

Christmas decorations are popping up all over the Warren County court house. On Tuesday John Anderson, chief maintenance man, with the help of a prisoner in the county jail, was trimming a large and lovely Christmas tree in the foyer. The offices sparkle and the staff is looking forward to its annual Christmas party Dec. 20 at Allegheny River Hotel. The affair serves a dual purpose since it will also honor County Commissioner Blain M. Mead and County Treasurer Florence Hoffman who will be leaving the fold Dec. 31.

The daytime distaff members of the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer gather at 7 p.m. today at Allegheny River Hotel for their annual holiday get-together.

Marijuana Charge Lodged Against Man

State police at Meadville arrested a 25-year-old Cambridge Springs man at noon Monday on a charge of selling marijuana.

Committed to Crawford County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond was William Michael Borden. He was charged following an investigation by state police and Cambridge Springs police.

State police said that on Oct. 22 Borden sold marijuana to an undercover state policeman. Monday the police obtained a search warrant and recovered additional marijuana.

Barnes Area News Notes

By Mrs. Belle Conquer
968-5403

To usher in the Christmas season, the Rev. George Campbell of the Sheffield Methodist Church used as his Sunday sermon topic, "Joy to the World."

Mrs. David Swanson directed the children's choir in the anthem, "The Happy Christmas Comes Once More," and the prayer song "Softly, Tread Softly."

The joint meeting of the Adult Bible Class and WSCS will meet at the Titus-Miller home Dec. 16 for their Christmas meeting. Instead of a gift exchange each member will give 50 cents to be used in mission work. They are also helping the poverty stricken district of Appalachia. Miss Harriet Titus has sent many large boxes of used clothing and is always rewarded with detailed letters of thanks from the recipients.

The Administrative Board of Barnes United Methodist Church will meet at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 9. The budget will be presented, considered and a final budget adopted.

Mrs. Bertha Miller has been discharged from Warren General Hospital and is at home to family and friends.

Mrs. Janet Hahn was admitted to WGH last Thursday for tests and observation.

Mrs. Abe Raffle and son, John, were visitors at the Raymond Blymiller home over the weekend.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conquer met with other members of World War I Warren Barracks 1029, at Peterson-Blick Funeral Home to pay their respects to Melvin Johnson.

Eight ladies, including Mrs. Grace Allen and Mrs. Bertha Holden from Barnes, went to Warren Monday morning in the mini-bus and spent the day at the Senior Center working at handcrafts and making cancer pads.

The bazaar and bake sale held Dec. 3 and 4 was a success. Proceeds will go to the Hospitality Center. Bertha Holden and other Golden Agers conducted the sale and all donations were greatly appreciated. It is understood the old Hospitality House is to be sold.

Barnes young people attended the 11th grade American Cultures session and participated in map making of the Roman Empire. Putting considerable time and effort into the project were Tim Leichenberger, Dave Swanson and Wendy Blymiller.

James Rudolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rudolph, has been enrolled at Warren Campus, Edinboro State University.

The Women's Missionary Society of F.M. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Ethel Phillips, 628 West Main st., Sheffield, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. This group is devoted to mission work and each week many boxes of good used clothing are distributed locally. Anyone knowing of persons in need of clothing are asked to forward ages and sizes.

Some Barnes residents were among the 800 Independent Union members at National Forge who voted to end the strike and accept a three year contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Conquer, Larry and Stanley Roberts, spent the day at the John Hoffman home Sunday. Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Conquer attended the Christmas Open House at Gorton's.

In The Armed Forces

Major Fred R. Nordin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Nordin of Orangeburg, S.C. has received his fourth award of the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious service in Vietnam.

He is married to the former Norma Ellberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ellberg of 13 Willey st., Warren.

Nordin recently served as chief of current operations division of 35th Tactical Fighter Wing of Phan Rang Air Force Base.

He was commissioned in 1967 through the aviation cadet program and now holds the aeronautical rating of senior pilot.

Navy Fireman James W. Cruickshank, son of Barbara Cruickshank of 6 Cook st., North Warren, recently graduated from the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

He is a 1968 graduate of Warren Area High School and attended the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago before entering the service.

Driving Tip

Today's tip for safer winter driving from Chief of Police B.L. Winegardner "Don't try to be a 'peep-hole' pilot. Keep your windshield and all windows clear of snow and ice at all times. Make sure your defroster is working properly; replace streaking wiper blades."

Looking For An Older House?

By SYLVIA PORTER

If you're in the market for a house at this season of the year, the odds are you'll buy one already built -- and possibly in existence long enough to be called an "older" or even "old" house. For in most parts of the U.S. this soon will be the bottom period for home-building, and new houses at the prices you can afford will be hard to find. And at any given moment, there will be some 3 million older houses for sale, of which some 2 million actually will be sold each year.

The statistical likelihood, therefore, is that if you're this potential buyer, you're vitally interested in the advantages of buying an older house. Since it is an exceedingly important subject to millions in addition to you, here goes:

+ You'll usually be able to buy an older house for about 15 to 20 per cent lower than a new one -- in terms of what you are getting for each home-buying dollar. Also, if you're buying from the owner, he may be willing to bargain on price, for the simple reason that home-selling is not his sole business. (The exception is in areas where old-fashioned houses are "in".)

+ The rooms -- and the house as a whole -- probably will be more gracious and spacious, and the house generally will be more comfortable. Try mentally to assign values to such extras as walk-in closets, porches, entrance rooms, basement space, sheds, the like -- in terms of dollars and in terms of their intangible value to you.

+ The construction is likely to be of considerably higher quality, including materials and workmanship.

+ Frequently the house will be located in an established neighborhood involving long-established landscaping of the neighborhood as a whole. This will give you a better idea of what it would be like to live there than would a new house in a whole new community. The land surrounding the house itself will have been landscaped too.

+ Its kinks and shortcomings -- such as a dilapidated porch or peeling wallpaper or exposed water pipes -- will advertise themselves loudly to you when you inspect the house. Flaws in a new development house -- a badly poured foundation or poorly spaced joists under the floor -- may be hidden.

+ The variety of shapes, sizes and designs of older houses from which to choose probably will be greater than the variety of new homes offered by builders or developers. And old house styles, remember, have stood the tests of time.

+ Taxes tend to rise less sharply for older houses than newer ones -- and the burden of special assessments for improvements such as utilities and town water systems may be less since many of these amenities will already have been installed and paid for.

Of course, this is merely one side of the older homebuying tale -- and it would be a disservice to you to stop at this. To suggest some of the points against the older house, you may find it tougher to get a mortgage on an older house than a new one and other terms -- down payment, duration of mortgage -- also may be less favorable on the older house. The older house may need costly repairs and remodeling

WE AT LOBLAWS FEEL...

THAT YOU WOULD LIKE TO SERVE YOUR FAMILY THE VERY BEST, AT AN UNUSUALLY LOW PRICE... SO WHY PAY MORE FOR LESSER QUALITY. WE SAY BEST BECAUSE OUR STORES SELL ONLY U.S.D.A. CHOICE GRADE BEEF RIGHT FROM THE HEART OF THE CORN COUNTRY - IOWA!

BEEF MEN ALL OVER THE COUNTRY AGREE THAT THE MOST TENDER - BEST TASTING BEEF IS CORN FED. WITH CORN FED BEEF WE DON'T HAVE TO DEPEND ON ARTIFICIAL TENDERIZERS THAT CHEMICALLY BREAK DOWN MUSCLE FIBER IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE TENDERNESS. CORN FEEDING ACCOMPLISHES THIS NATURALLY, THE WAY NATURE INTENDED IT, SLOWLY AND DELICIOUSLY.

SO INTRODUCE YOUR FAMILY TO DELICIOUS EATING BY TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE FABULOUS BEEF BUYS OFFERED THIS WEEK, AT YOUR LOBLAWS... YOU DESERVE THE BEST FOR YOUR FAMILY.
